Similar historical relations and national needs now bind us to Italy. Both countries will manutain the blessings of peace and work out in the quiet security of new-won unity the perfection of national institutions and the promotion of their welfare.

Our existing agreements with Austria and Italy will permit me to my satisfaction to maintain my position of friendship with the Czar and the friendly relations existing for a century with Russia, which correspond with my own feelings and Germany's interest.

In the conscientious care of peace I shall devote myself equally as readily to the service of the Fatherland as to the care of the army, and I rejoice in our traditional relations to the foreign Powers through which my endeavors in behalf of peace will be culisted. The road is let to contract through Tazewelf, Russell, and West to Riz-stone Gap, seeking its southern connection with the Louisville and Nashville road, and a great future for the road and this country is assured in opening up this hitherto inacessible section, rich in minerals and lumber. It is now considered an assured fact that a great city, the Rirmingham of Virginia, is creat city, the Birmingham of Virginia, is in the near future to be built at some point bouthwest of this place, where the iron, coal, and limestone are to be found convenient to day by the falling of a heavy irongrating and limestone are to be found convenient to each other. REICHNTAG OPENED.

Berling, June 25.—The Reichstag was opened to day with pomp and brilliancy. After divine service in the court chapel the Emperor was seconted with great ceremony for the White Hall of the Old Castle, where he declared the session opened. The Emperor's speech in rull is as follows: I great you with deep sorrow in my heart. I know yourmourn with me. The fresh remembrance of the heavy sufferings of my deceased of the heavy sufferings of my deceased father, and the affecting fact that I have been called upon to ascend the throne three months after the death of his Majesty Emperor William I., will exercise a similar effect upon the hearts of all Germans. Our sorrow has evoked warm sympathy from all the countries of the world. Beneath the burden of these things I pray God to give me strength to accomplish the God to give me strength to accomplish the high duties to which His will has called me. Obeying this call I have before my eyes the example of the peaceful rule which Emperor William I. after a bitter war left to his successors, and to which my late father's rule corresponded in so far as he was not prevented from executing his designs by his illness and death. I have summoned you in order to declare in your summened you in order to declare in your presence that as King and Emperor I am resolved to pursue the same path by which my deceased grandfather secured the confidence of his allies, the love of the German people, and good-will abroad. I also, with God's help, will strive earnessly to accomplish the same end. The most important duties of the German Emperor lie within the province of assuring the military and political salety of the deceased, and watching over the JOSEPH E. WHEELER, Cumberland Presbyterian Minister, Lebanon, Mo. EXAMINE TO SEE THAT YOU GET THE wrapper, and on the side the seal and signature thesempire abroad, and watching over the execution of the imperial laws at home. The chief of these laws regards the imperial Constitution. In the legislation of the empire I have, in accordance with the Constitution, togeoperate more in my capacity as King of Prussia than as German Emperor; but in both capacities & will be my endeavor to proceed to the same spirit which my grand-tables, became and exceedably will I approin both capacities it will be my endeavor to proceeds in the same spirit which my grandfather began, and especially will I appropriate to myself, in its full significance, his message of November 17, 1881, and shall continue to strive in the spirit of that document, so that imperial legislation may afford to the working people that further protection which in accordance with Christian morality is needed by the weak and oppressed in their struggie for existence. I hope that in this way it may be possible to arrive at an equalization of unhealthy social contrasts, and I cherish confidence in the belief that for the care of our damestic welfare I shall have the crear-sighted support of all true friends of the empire and of allied governments without division or party differences. I also hold myself bound to support our national and social developments within the paths of legality, and stemly to oppose all efforts the aim and sendence of which shall be to undermine public order.

In foreign politics I am resolved to maintain peace with every one so far as it lies in my power. My love for the German army and my position in it would never induce to attempt to endanger for the country the benefits of 'peace unless necessity for wer is forced upon us by a hostile attempt on the campire or one of its allies. Our army will assure us peace, or if peace be broken it will enable us to fight for it with honor. That with God's help will be possible for it to do by reason of the strength it has derived from the army laws you recently dinaumously voted. To employ this strength for offensive war is far from my heart. Germany needs neither new military renown nor any conquest, since she finally won for herself by fighting the right to exist as a united and independent nation.
